

- Lives in Restrictions.
- He is selfish.
- He only cares about his career and his time (He will never make adjustments for me and give his time as it is very valuable for him).
- He says that he will be there for me always but he cant even come to meet me if I want.
- Whatever I say, he brings career in between and says thats the top priority (as if I want him to get barbaad).
- He doesnt have guts.
- He earns still gives reasons of not affor-
-ding things.
- Doesnt make me feel special. Only Speaks, doesnt do anything.
- Only interested in physical things and for that he doesnt even think ki I am a girl and there should be privacy.
- He always said that after GRE, MS process, placement, he will be free as a bird. But guess what the bird is in the cage and will always be. All plans made after lockdown are useless because he cant manage things for me. He is 21 and still it feels sad to see him like this.
- I was too selfless for such a selfish person. (I thought this is my duty as a GF to be & support him. But he doesnt think of his duties being a BF)
- He didnt even support me when I decided to shift to Pune. The day I shifted it was just me and my decision.

- I always thought I should support, help, guide him in his career decisions and work, but at the end I always have to listen ki we should not waste our time & focus on career. (Sab accha chalra hai, nothing is getting affected still this I have to hear).
- At the end, if behind his career (even when I support him in that) he can't give his time for this relationship. I can't be with him anymore.
- These were the few months, we could have met & spent time, that was my only intention to tell him. We could get to know each other and understand each other. But again it all boiled down to career & that's the priority.

I can't help this guy anymore to make him understand. I give up on this relationship. He should only focus on his career, he will find a true love later on his life path.. God Bless!
