To,
The Admission committee,

I am pleased to write this Letter of recommendation in favor of Mr Bunny who has recently applied to your reputed University. I am Mau. I am his girlfriend. I have known bunny from 2 years. Initially he was not Bunny for me. I knew him as Devashish. But due to his capability of being so understandable and caring I thought of giving him that name which is one of the most loved name which I can give. I would say that he truly deserve it. I am closely associated with Bunny since 4 months now. I have thoroughly monitored him throughout our relationship till date. I would definitely say that he has the potential of loving a person very much.

He is an intelligent person. He remembers all the important dates of anniversary, Birthday etc. He also remembers fights properly. He has proved that he can fulfill the requirements on time. Due to the current pandemic we both remotely communicate. And usually there are requirements of kisses and Live shows. I would say that Bunny is extremely dedicated in fulfilling the requirements. Without delay he fulfills it. During the live shows he makes sure that the audience is satisfied by his performance. He also asks audience if they need anything else that he could display. Its my privilege to be a part of his live shows.

He is currently serving as the captain of the love team. I would say he works effortlessly. He is a Godu captain. He understands the importance of involving the team member in all the important discussions. He tried to give updates to the member. Sometimes when he couldn't share things, the member gets upset and he sweetly says sorry to make up. Bunny wants his team member to give equal input. I have seen him encouraging the member to join him and present themselves in the live show. He does hatt until the requirements are fulfilled.

Apart from teamwork Bunny is very hardworking himself. He is very focused and determined towards his work. His priorities are set and vision is clear. He gives importance to things which are necessary in the present. He tries to manage all his work first and therefore sometimes fall short of time for giving me. Due to which relationship suffers and unexpected fights occur.

But he is very good in resolving fights and finding out the best optimal solution so that same mistakes don't repeat. In his recent work he came up with an idea of list which contains all the necessary conditions, allowances, points to be remembered etc. He was quite appreciated for his work. But he is also an extremely excited person and sometimes asks his team member to do things which are not even in the list. He believes that there should be no limit for pleasure.

I assure that Bunny will definitely be an asset for your university. He has got all the necessary qualities to excel. And the most important thing which I kept for last to say is that if Bunny comes to your university he doesn't come alone. He has his buddy named Handsome. They both complement each other in every situation. So it's a buy one get one free by default offer for your university. It's a very nice deal actually ,so do think of Bunny for selection.
